Alabama Medicaid Workforce Initiative

Provide Medicaid eligibility for limited family planning benefits to eligible women and men.⁶ ⁷

EFFECTIVE: 10/1/2000  EXPRIATION: 9/20/2022

APPROVAL: 7/1/2000

The Alabama Medicaid Workforce Initiative provides Medicaid eligibility for limited family planning benefits to eligible women and men. Parents and caretaker relatives with a child under 6 years must participate in 20 hours of employment-related activity. Activities that can fulfill the requirements include employment, on the job training, job search and readiness activities, high school attendance, GED classes, vocational classes, or higher education, volunteer work or technical training. Individuals with disabilities, who are pregnant or receiving postpartum services, are above 60 years of age, care for a disabled child or adult, participate in a substance use treatment program, are enrolled in or exempt from the TANF JOBS program, or are the single custodial parent of a child one year old or younger are exempt from the requirements. Individuals who are noncompliant will be terminated from the Medicaid program after 90 days. As of January 2020, this waiver was pending approval.⁹

Value-Based Healthcare Initiatives

The Health Homes program adds additional support to the Alabama Coordinated Health Network (ACHN) by coordinating the care of patients who have or who are at-risk of having certain chronic conditions: asthma, diabetes, cancer, COPD, HIV, mental health conditions, substance use disorders, transplants, sickle cell, BMI>25, heart disease, and hepatitis C. (same source as before). Providers with Patient-Centered Medical Home (PCMH) recognition or certification can receive PCMH Recognition Bonus Patients.\(^7\), \(^12\)

Each PCCM organization in the Alabama Coordinated Health Network is accountable for improving health outcomes and can receive a 10% bonus for performance-based on HEDIS and CMS Quality Measures.\(^13\)

Family Planning

Medicaid-eligible women who qualify for pregnancy-related services are covered for family planning services through the end of the month in which the 60th postpartum day falls.\(^14\)

Through the Plan First waiver, eligible women receive limited family planning and birth control services. Eligible men are covered for vasectomies. Family planning services for those eligible under the waiver originally provided through the Plan First program are provided through the Alabama Coordinated Health Network.\(^25\)

Oral Health

The Alabama Medicaid Dental Program covers certain routine preventive and restorative services for children under the age of 21 who are eligible for full Medicaid benefits through fee-for-service.\(^16\) Benefits include checkup and dental cleaning every six months, some crowns, extractions, fillings, root canals, temporomandibular joint surgery and X-rays. Some services must be pre-approved by the state Medicaid office in advance of the service.\(^17\)

Children in the Medicaid program can receive case management services from licensed social workers and nurses to promote understanding of the importance of dental health and how to access dental care.\(^18\)

The 1st Look Program aims to reduce early childhood caries by having primary care physicians perform dental risk assessments, apply fluoride when needed, and refer patients to a dental home by one year of age. Children who receive services from a dentist do not qualify for this program.\(^19\)

Long-Term Services and Supports (LTSS)

Alabama has a managed fee-for-service (FFS) Long-Term Services and Supports (LTSS) model. The Integrated Care Network (ICN) program provides case management, education, and outreach services to most LTSS recipients in both home and community-based settings (HCBS) and institutional settings. The ICN receives a per-member per-month payment (PMPM), which is dependent upon reaching targets for the ratio of members using nursing facilities to members using HCBS. This is how the state has built a rebalancing incentive into the program. The state also continues to pay providers on a FFS basis for LTSS and other Medicaid services.\(^20\)

Cost-Sharing

Co-payments range from $1.30 to $3.90 for doctor visits, and between 65 cents and $3.90 for prescription drugs and medical supplies and appliances. A $50 co-pay is charged for a hospital admission. Services that do not require a co-payment include birth control services, case management, chemotherapy, emergencies, home health care services, mental health and substance abuse treatment services, outpatient physical therapy, radiation treatment, and kidney dialysis, among others. Individuals who are in nursing homes, under age 18, pregnant, or a Native American Indian are exempt from co-pays.\(^22\)

Children with Special Health Care Needs

Medicaid covers 49% of children with special health care needs in Alabama.\(^23\)
Women’s Health

- The Baby Comes First program helps pregnant women quit smoking through local smoking cessation educational programs and telephone “Quitlines.”

- Through the Alabama Perinatal Excellence Collaborative, the Alabama Medicaid Maternity Care Program aims to lower infant mortality and improve infant and maternal health.

- The Alabama Coordinated Health Network provides maternal health services to pregnant members.

- Medicaid provides coverage for midwifery services through RCOs.

Behavioral Health

- Alabama provides mental and behavioral health benefits through RCOs. However, substance use benefits continue to be provided through fee-for-service. Benefits include (but are not limited to):
  - Individual, family, and group counseling
  - Drug therapies
  - Targeted case management
  - Child and adolescent mental day treatment
  - In-home interventions

Child and Adolescent Health

- In the Alabama Coordinated Health Network program, providers are incentivized to achieve quality goals for childhood obesity and infant mortality.

- In addition to EPSDT services, Alabama offers intensive home-based services for child members.
- The Alabama Coordinated Health Network program began.
